Carolina Scales Weighs in on South Carolina's Growing Forestry Industry

Forestry is proving to be South Carolina's top manufacturing industry according to the S.C. Forestry Commission in 2017. Timber is the top harvested crop in the state. It also is the top export from the port in Charleston and Carolina Scales is no stranger to the weighing needs of the business. President, Nate Keisler, has noticed through the years that the demand for more technology-based equipment has grown as well.

Operating in S.C. since 1950, Carolina Scales has grown to become a "one-stop-shop" for any forestry site operations. We offer durable Truck Scales to weigh logging trucks in and out. We also provide Unattended Kiosks which are a great choice since they keep drivers in their trucks and reduce the risk of injury to drivers while on site. Kiosks are offered with many options such as thermal tape printers, badge readers, backlit displays and rain guards. As mentioned the demand for technology really takes root when it comes to the kiosks. Customers are demanding Solar Power since most forestry sites are void of electricity. Also, Software that streamlines the drivers Weigh-Ins and Weigh-Outs is very important. Kiosks software can be Custom programmed to site specific needs and displays. For example, the value of different hardwoods varies from one to another, kiosks can be programmed to account for these variances when storing data and printing tickets.

Carolina Scales was established in March 1950 to install and service mechanical truck scales throughout the southeast. During the 1970's & 1980's with the transition from mechanical to electronic devices, Carolina Scales grew from a small sales and service scale company to a quality supplier specializing in sales and the service of industrial scale equipment, material batching & blending, data collection, calibration services, PLCs & weighing control systems, and one of the largest rental scale fleets.
